

FANTASYLAND PHOTOGRAPHY RULES

Visitors are welcome to take pictures during Santa's program. Because of time constraints, we have some instructions that Santa asked us to pass along. Please follow these guidelines so everyone will have a turn to take a picture with Santa Claus.

- Have your family members gathered and ready for picture taking.
- Have your camera ready.
- Limit the number of pictures to three or less.
- Remember, no pets allowed, except reindeer.
- Please follow the directions by Santa's helper.

For your convenience, disposable cameras are available for sale at our admissions desk.

And lastly, Santa asks if you would share your digital pictures for his scrapbook. Please send them to info.hswv@cox.net and we will pass them along to the North Pole.

FANTASYLAND

NOVEMBER 27 – DECEMBER 23

Center in the Square • Third Floor • Downtown Roanoke

HISTORY MUSEUM OF WESTERN VIRGINIA

Fantasyland began in the 1970's when several downtown businesses donated their retired Christmas figures, first to Downtown Roanoke, Inc., then to the Roanoke Valley History Museum (now History Museum of Western Virginia) to preserve their magic for future generations. Fantasyland is a cornucopia of holiday characters harkening back to a simpler time. Children love the elves in Santa's workshop, the penguins and polar bears in Arctic snow, characters from many countries in a chorus poised to sing songs from around the world and the reindeer in their stalls waiting patiently for Santa to hook them to his sleigh so they may begin their journey around the globe.

SANTA WELCOMES ALL AGES IN A UNIQUE SETTING

A visit with Santa during Fantasyland is a joyous occasion for adults and children alike. Santa's program is approximately 45 minutes in length.

(School group programs are 30 minutes each.) The children sit on the floor getting to know Santa at their own pace. In a warm, comfortable setting in the History Museum's library, Santa dressed in his green shirt, suspenders, and lace up boots, coat hanging on the rack by the fireplace mantel, welcomes visitors into an inviting atmosphere. His Christmas tree is adorned with special ornaments that he shares with the children at the end of their visit to put on their own tree at home. Visitors also get to see Santa's very own 200-year old sleigh. And there are other exciting surprises awaiting.

LOVE AND SHARING

Santa teaches important lessons of love, sharing, history, and more as he tells stories, sings, plays guitar or piano, and interacts with the children through fun activities. The children experience being loved and appreciated as well as learn important lessons about kindness, helpfulness, responsibility, tolerance, and love. Children are encouraged to become active in helping to create peace on earth and good will towards all people. Families often come together with the adults and older siblings joining in. Photographs are allowed so bring your camera.
